THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW.

The Omaha Republican gives the following history of the origin of this production, which the London Spectator pronounced to be the finest poem ever written in America:

"The early part of the war, one dark Saturday night, in the dead of winter, there died in the Commercial Hospital, in Cincinnati, a young woman, over whose head only two and twenty summers had passed. She had once been possessed of an enviable share of beauty, and had been, as she herself says, 'flattered and sought for the charms of the face;' but alas! upon her fair brow was written that terrible word—prostitute! Once the pride of respectable parentage, her first wrong step was the small beginning of the 'same old story over again,' which has been only the life history of thousands. Highly educated, and with accomplished manners, she might have shone in the best society. But the evil hour that proved her ruin was the door from which went out the innocence of childhood, and having spent a young life in disgrace and shame, the poor friendless one died the melancholy death of a broken-hearted outcast. Among her personal effects was found in manuscript, 'The Beautiful Snow,' which was immediately carried to Enos B. Reed, a gentleman of culture and literary taste, who was at that time editor of the National Union. In the columns of that paper, on the morning of the day following the girl's death, the poem appeared in print for the first time. When the paper containing the poem came out on Sunday morning, the body of the victim had not yet received burial. The attention of Thomas Buchanan Read, one of the first American poets, was so taken with their stirring pathos, that he immediately followed the corpse to its final resting-place.—Such are the plain facts concerning her whose 'Beautiful Snow' shall long be remembered as one of the brightest gems in American literature."

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow!
Filling the sky and the earth below,
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet,
Dancing,
Flirting,
Skipping along;
Beautiful snow! it can do nothing wrong,
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek,
Clinging to lips in a frolicsome freak;
Beautiful snow from the heavens above,
Pure as an angel, gentle as love!

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow!
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go
Whirling about in their maddening fun,
It plays in its glee with every one—
Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by,
It lights on the face and sparkles the eye,
And the playing dogs with a bark and a bound,
Snap at the crystals that eddy around;
The town is alive, and its heart in a glow
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow.

How wildly the crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song!
How the gay sledges, like meteors pass by,
Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye!
Ringing,
Swinging,
Dashing they go,
Over the crust of the beautiful snow—
Snow so pure when it falls from the sky,
As to make one regret to see it lie
To be trampled and tracked by the thousands of feet,
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow, but I fell—
Fell like snow-flakes, from heaven to hell;
Fell to be trampled as filth in the street;
Fell to be scoffed, to be spit on and be beat;
Pleading,
Cursing,
Dreading to die;
Selling my soul to whoever would buy;
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread;
Hating the living, and fearing the dead.
Merciful God! Have I fallen so low?
And yet I was once like the beautiful snow.

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like a crystal, a heart like its glow;
Once I was loved for my innocent grace,
Flattered and sought for the charms of my face.
Father,
Mother,
Sister, all,
God and myself have I lost by my fall!
The veriest wretch that goes shivering by
Will make a wide swoop lest I wander too nigh;
For all that is on or above me, I know
There's nothing so pure as the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that this beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go!
How strange it should be when night comes again,
If the snow and the ice struck my desperate brain!
Fainting,
Freezing,
Dying alone,
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for a moan
To be heard in the streets of the crazy town,
Gone mad in the joy of the snow coming down.
To be and to die in my terrible woe,
With a bed and a shroud of the beautiful snow.

Helpless and foul as the trampled snow,
Sinner, despair not! Christ stoopeth low
To rescue the soul that is lost in its sin,
And raise it to life and enjoyment again.
Groaning,
Bleeding,
Dying for thee,
The crucified hung on the accursed tree,
His accents of mercy fell soft on thine ear.
Is there mercy for me? Will He heed my prayer?
O God! in the stream that for sinners did flow
Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

WHILE Thad. Stevens was a young lawyer, he once had a case before a "bad-tempered" Judge of an obscure Pennsylvania Court. Under what he considered a very erroneous ruling, it was decided against him; whereupon he threw down his books and picked up his hat in a high state of indignation, and was about to leave the court-room, muttering imprecations all around him. The Judge straightened himself to his full height, assumed an air of offended majesty, and asked "Thad." if he meant to "express his contempt for this Court." "Thad." turned to him very deferentially, made a respectful bow, and replied, in feigned amazement, "Express my contempt for this Court! No sir! I am trying to conceal it, your Honor," adding, as he turned to leave, "but I find it d—d hard to do it."

DOMESTIC LIFE IN JAPAN.

FAMILY RELATIONS.

The Japanese are affectionate towards each other in their family relations. Among the lower classes fathers may often be seen caressing their children. I have before me now a native sketch of a father, mother and children, walking along the shores of one of the numerous inlets of the sea, which intersect these islands in all directions. The father bears a single sword, and therefore belongs to a class above that of a laborer or tradesman. By the sumptuary laws of Japan doctors, for instance, are permitted to carry one sword, while the retainers of princes, and all who are accounted gentlemen, wear two. This father carries on his back his son, a stout child, who is stretching out his hand to his mother. The boy's head is carefully shaved, with the exception of a small turf on each side above the ear, which, as he grows older, will be permitted to lengthen, and finally will be drawn up and stiffened into a coiffure similar to that of his paternal parent. The mother has the aid of a stick, necessitated by her using tall pattens. Her large straw hat hangs from her shoulders. She also carries a parcel, strapped by a thong round her waist. We may conclude that they are travelers who have had wet ground to pass over, from the careful way in which their feet are protected, the husband wearing, instead of his ordinary sandals, others that are adapted for bad roads. In the distance rises Fusi-yama. Possibly, therefore, these travelers are proceeding to Yeddo, the capitol city of Japan. The sea is dotted with rowing and sailing boats, most of which are employed in fishing operations, so necessary where the population depends mainly on the finny tribe for their maintenance.

In the summer time, almost naked copper-colored fathers may often be seen carrying in their arms entirely naked copper-colored children, who seem perfectly contented with their nurses.

Sometimes drink is the cause of much unhappiness in Japanese homes, as in those nearer to us; but as a rule domestic matters roll on smoothly enough, thanks to the forbearance of the wives, for the habits of the husbands are not always conducive to the happiness of married life.

Once a year a feast is celebrated to commemorate the births of children. Houses where there has been an addition to the family are decorated with flags and streamers of colored cotton. Over the threshold small figures, dressed in gay colors, are suspended from long poles; two denote the birth of a son, one that of a daughter.

Among the higher classes the heads of families often show their devotion to their relatives by the extremest self-sacrifice, killing themselves by the hari kari, or happy dispatch, when through any circumstance the law has been violated, in order that the consequences of the act may not fall upon their relatives, who would otherwise be liable to a forfeiture of property, or perhaps death, if the untoward act were not at once acknowledged and atoned for by this shocking kind of suicide. Among the high officials it is a point of honor to perform this act, if any failure occurs in their department which would render them liable to the displeasure of the supreme power, and by so doing all bad consequences are averted from their children, and their sons are sometimes placed in high offices as a reward for the father's self-abnegation.

As another instance of self-devotion, the servant of a much-loved lord will sometimes cause himself to be placed in a small stone inclosure, and covered with earth, a pipe conveying sufficient air to the mouth to support respiration. The devoted servant prays incessantly for his master, until death from inanition puts an end to his self-inflicted sufferings.

Parents are said by the old Dutch writers frequently to give up their property to their children on the latter attaining their majority, and from the tender care of the latter for their father and mother, they have seldom cause to regret their abdication of power of property.

Toy-shops abound in Japan, and this fact is regarded as a proof of the thoughtfulness of the seniors for the young people. By-the-by we may mention here the admirable way in which the squeaking Dutch dolls are imitated by Japanese toy-makers with a few bits of bamboo and paper. These babies, which have the unmistakable Dutch features, squeak on pressure quite as successfully as those which amuse our own children.

Female domestics wait on their mistresses, attend them to the baths, hold umbrellas over their heads to protect them from the glare of the sun, or from rain or snow, cook food and sweep, and do the small amount of housework requisite in Japanese houses.

The system of noblemen assembling around them all their most distant retainers makes the ramifications of Japanese families extend as widely as did those of the Highland clans in the last century, and these retainers are as devoted to the interests of the head of the family, and as willing to sacrifice life and all that makes it valuable for their prince, as the dunnie wassals were to fight and die for their chieftains.

WALK WHEN YOU BEGIN.—When Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth commenced the practice of law, he lived in Bloomfield; and as his pecuniary means were not large, he was accustomed to come from his office on foot. There was at the time a dashing merchant in the city—Mr. H. who rode in a showy vehicle drawn by a pair of showy horses; and as he often rode to Bloomfield, he often met Mr. E. Meeting him one morning he reined up his team, and saluted him with "Good morning, Mr. Elsworth, what are you walking for? why don't you ride?"

"Because," was the reply, "I have found that persons must walk at some period of their lives, and I choose to walk when I begin."

It would be well if all who are setting out in life were of this opinion; but they are not. Hence such numbers, determined to ride when they are young, are forced to walk when they are old.

A few years having elapsed, Mr. H. failed in business and was obliged to go afoot; while Mr. E., ascending from small beginnings, became Minister Plenipotentiary to France, and rode in his coach.

"Walk when you begin."

WALKING AND ITS USES.

Dr. A. L. Wood, in the Herald of Health, gives the following sensible advice on walking:

Exercise is absolutely indespensable to the physical well-being of man, and walking is one of the most useful of the various modes of exercise. As a people we ride too much and walk too little. If we are in the country, and have a mile or two to go, we wait—perhaps long enough to walk the entire distance—for a horse to be got ready, and then sit lazily in our seats while this noble animal carries us to our destination. If we are in the city, and have a few blocks to go, we get into an omnibus or a horse-car and sit our journey out, just as though we were not created with legs the same as horses are. The nation's legs are rapidly diminishing in size for the want of exercise, hence the demand for false calves and for easier modes of locomotion is on the increase; so, also, is dyspepsia, liver complaint, general debility, and other physical derangements, which result, in great part at least, from a lack of muscular action.

The special advantages of walking, as an exercise, are many. Perhaps the most important is that it takes us out of doors and keeps us there in the pure air and the bright sunshine. The exercise, which is gentle and prolonged, increases not only the frequency but the fulness of respiration, thus bringing a much larger quantity of oxygen into the lungs, and through them to the blood, thereby giving the finishing touch to the process of digestion, and vitalizing "the red current of life." Another advantage to respiration is this; when a person is sitting or standing still, the exhaled air from the lungs, which is unfit to be breathed again, fills the space about the face, and a portion of it is taken in the lungs at the next breath; especially is this the case if the head is bent forward; but when a person is walking and expels the air from his lungs, his head is carried past the expired air before he draws another breath, and thus he gets a supply of pure air, with its full proportion of oxygen, at every inspiration, and thus is the vigor and vivacity which results from exercise in the open air partially accounted for. Walking is very beneficial to the digestive organs, by the gentle yet constant motion which it imparts to them, and which is essential to their long continued, healthful action. It brings into action and properly develops more muscles than any other one mode of exercise. It tends to equalize the circulation of the blood. Pedestrians, rope-dancers, and those who exercise their legs a great deal are not troubled with that almost universal complaint—cold feet. The simple reason is that exercise calls the blood to the parts exercised, and the blood feeds and warms.

One great objection to walking is that it takes so much time. True, it takes some time; more, as a general thing, than it does to ride; but so does the accomplishment of anything desirable; and is not good health desirable? In the end, however, it results in the saving of time, by preserving the health and increasing the vigor of all the physical and mental functions. In no way is there so much time wasted, to say nothing of vitality, as in being sick, and yet people are unwilling to give a little time to keeping well.

To obtain the greatest amount of good from walking, it must, like everthing else, be done right. In the first place, it is always best to have some definite object in view when going out to walk, some particular place or object of interest to see, some purpose to accomplish, or some friend to visit, and not walk merely for the purpose of walking, if any other object can be attained at the same. But better walk without any object than not walk at all.—The position of the body while walking is of great importance. The body should incline slightly forward from the hips, if walking slowly, and the inclination should increase according to the rapidity of the walk. The head should be kept on a line with the body, the shoulders and hips held back, and the chest unimpeded in its action by tight clothing or otherwise. The arms should be allowed to swing freely at the side. The respiration should be carried on entirely through the nostrils, and not through the mouth. In commencing a long walk, walk slowly at first, and gradually increase the speed. Invalids, and persons who are unaccustomed to walking, should begin with short walks, being careful not to overdo, and increase the distance as their strength and endurance increase. Any one who will practice this precept—never ride when you can just as well walk—will not only be more vigorous and healthy, but will accomplish far more than he or she otherwise would.

A GOOD-NIGHT KISS.—Always send your child to bed happy. Whatever cares may trouble your mind, give the dear child a good-night kiss as it goes to its pillow. The memory of this, in the stormy years which may be in store for the little one, will be Bethlehem's star to the bewildered shepherd, and swelling up in the heart will rise the thought, "My father and mother loved me?" Lips parched with fever will become dewy at this thrill of youthful memories. Kiss your little child before it goes to sleep.

MRS. LUCY STONE said a good thing in the woman's Convention at Chicago to wit:

"Some mean cowards say if women vote they should fight. Now, she would ask, who perils her life when the soldier is born? The mother is his quartermaster until he is capable of finding his own rations."

That's true, and that quartermaster don't feed her soldiers on "hard tack," either.

BE KIND TO EACH OTHER.—A little boy and girl, each probably five years old, were by the roadside. The boy became angry at something, and struck his playmate a sharp blow on the cheek, whereupon she sat down and began to cry piteously. The boy stood looking on silently for a minute, and then said:

"I didn't mean to hurt you, Katie; I am sorry."

The little rosy face brightened instantly. The sobs were hushed, and she said:

"Well, if you are sorry, it don't hurt."

A NOBLE Lord once asked a clergyman at the bottom of the table, "Why the goose, if there was one, was always placed next to the parson?" "Really," said he, "I can give no reason for it; but your question is so odd that I shall never see a goose again without thinking of your lordship."

OCTOBER.

October, beautiful and bright! we have watched not longingly, but lovingly for thy approach, and bless thee that thou art here! Thou hast bound up fragments from the "rolling year;" bird notes, that dancing Spring left behind her; a handful of roses not yet afraid to expand their delicate petals, with Summer's quivering sheen. Thou hast not seen bearded wheat, and bending rye, but golden corn, and grasses innumerable,—valued souvenirs that nestle in the glory-wreath that binds thy gracious brow! The farmer's doubts and fears are banished, his bright hopes realized. Night tucks her curtain around earth sooner than of yore; we have tea earlier, and the little folks are allowed a precious hour all their own, in which their desires reign, and supper is settled with a "blind man's buff," "puss wants a corner," or "tag," in the hall, while the dishes are cleared away in the kitchen, their clatter to be succeeded by the "whirr" of the apple parer.

The good-night kiss has passed around, and tiny hands been folded in prayer; mother glides noiselessly down stairs, and seating herself, unfolds the mysteries of the inexhaustible work-basket; father reads the "Star and Sentinel," or some other equal ly welcome visitor; sister weaves such beautiful usefuls in a magical way from warm-colored "zephyrs," to the great admiration of brother, who leans, with netting mesh in hand, over her chair.

We love October! for with all her wealth of beauty, she forgets not that there are little plump feet belonging to orphans, or those who are worse,—with drunken parents,—that will soon be chilblained and swollen, if not cared for, and reminds us of it by tapping at our window panes, and leaving a frosty breath there, now and then.

Another reason why we love October, is because she reverently casts a leaf many times a day into the church-yard yonder, and covers up the hillocks,—Oh! so new to us!—until naught of them is seen but the bright-hued covering, and they cease to appear so very fresh. Remove not a single leaf,—'tis a sacred covering!

But come with me across the stile, down the lane into the wood. You are tired now? Well, rest on this fallen tree; but see how the old, lifeless trunk is adorned with mosses or lichens; let us gather some of the prettiest, and see who can get the greatest variety of colors. Some of those red berries, too, near the stream, put in your basket, and do not forget to add acorns and beech burrs to your store. As we return home we will collect green leaves, and down in the meadow there are two swamp maples, one a huge crimson, the other a golden bouquet; some of these leaves we must have; please be careful not to break any part of them.

"Mother will say we we are filling the house with litter."

"Indeed, she will not, when she sees what pretty ornaments we can make of them!"

MAGNET.

A MINISTER'S COURTESY.

Mr. Ely used to tell a little story of a brother clergyman, Rev. Mr. Gay, of Suffield, which story was a good illustration of Yankee "cuteness." Several similar anecdotes have appeared in print; but this is a genuine "Simon pure," we believe:

Among Mr. Gay's parishoners, was a well-to-do farmer named, we will say, Brown, who was especially generous in his free-will tithes to the good minister. This farmer's errand and "chore" boy, getting big enough to take his place at the plow, a new boy was taken into service—a rough untrained little fellow. To him the promoted boy discoursed quite condescendingly: "You hev got into a pretty nice place, I tell you; and if you behave, they'll use you well, give you plenty of good victuals, a suit of Sunday clothes, winter clothes, winter schoolin' and not work you tew hard. But one thing—you'll have to go on errands to the minister's pretty often, and lug big baskets of things; and the worst of it is, you'll never get nothing but thanks from the parson and his folks—not so much as a shillin' for your pains."

Johnny heard and pondered, and it happened that the very next morning he was sent to the minister's with a heavy quarter of veal, about as much as he could carry. The way was long and the weather was warm, and when he reached the parsonage, he was not in the sweetest of tempers. He marched into the breakfast room without knocking or removing his hat; and setting down his basket, said gruffly:

"Mr. Gay, Mr. Brown has sent you this here quarter of veal."

"Ah! indeed," said the minister blandly, "I am obliged to him. Are you Mr. Brown's new boy?"

"Yes."

"Well, my lad, when you have been in the family a while longer, your manners will doubtless improve."

"Why, what's the matter with my manners?" asked the boy, with a look of stupid astonishment.

"Why, my son, they are a little abrupt and discourteous. Now your way of presenting Mr. Brown's present was not just what it should have been. I think I can show you, so that you will know just how to do next time. I will personate you, and you may pretend you are me, for a few minutes."

Saying this, the minister took up the basket, went into the entry and closed the door. Then he knocked gently.

The boy having seated himself in the minister's chair, and put on a grave and reverend aspect, called out, "Come in."

Entering very quietly and deferentially, though with difficulty preserving his gravity, holding his hat in one hand and the basket in the other, the minister approached his small proxy, and said with a low bow, "Mr. Brown sends his compliments, and begs that you will accept this quarter of veal, Mr. Gay."

"I am very much obliged to Mr. Brown, and to you too, my fine boy," said Johnny, with an air of utmost seriousness; "but it seems to me that it's a big load for so small a lad to carry. Just take it into the kitchen and ask Mrs. Gay to give you a quarter of a dollar."

Nobody ever enjoyed this story more than Mr. Gay himself; except, perhaps, Mrs. Gay, who promptly paid over the quarter to the clever little actor.

He ought to have been a great lawyer.—Perhaps he was, and ended his days on the bench.

THE JAPANESE AT HOME.—Arriving as we did from China, the land of pug-noses and yellow skins, we were at once struck with the fresh ruddy complexions, and in many instances the well-cut features of the Japanese. Besides the difference in their personal appearance, they offer a marked contrast to the Chinese in manner and bearing. In place of the cringing abject demeanor of the latter, they carry themselves as becomes men, fearlessly and uprightly, look you straight in the face, and consider themselves inferior to none. The better class are a bold set of men. Like knights of old, they are evey ready to avenge a wrong, or even to provoke a quarrel; and with their terrible two-handed swords would be anything but contemptible antagonists in hand-to-hand fighting. Their manners are polished in the extreme. As a rule they are exceeding good natured, and have a keen sense of the ridiculous—rather too much so; for we believe that if the most dutiful son, possessed of the greatest filial piety, were to see his father dying, he could not repress a laugh if the old gentleman were to do so in a comical way. The Japanese ladies are almost as fair-skinned as their sisters of the West. Small but neatly—nay, sometimes faultlessly—shaped; their flowing robes displaying in its own gracefulness the model that nature has adopted, and which none of the meretricious deceptions of civilization can improve upon; with pretty captivating manners, and a language musical and soft as Italian, the laughter-loving nymphs of the Rising Sun have many and powerful charms. No one who has been in Japan will deny their claim to beauty.—Harper's Magazine.

The Engravings of Grant and Colfax alone sell for $4.—Specimen copies can be seen at this office. Here is a chance to get the Independent and the Star & Sentinel FOR NOTHING. Send us $4, and both papers, with the two Engravings, will be sent to any address.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Gov. Geary has issued his Proclamation, calling attention to the Proclamation of the President, fixing Thursday the 18th of November as a day of Thanksgiving, and of Praise, and of Prayer, and earnestly advising that the People of Pennsylvania, for the reason therein given, observe its recommendations.

THE New York State election will take place on Tuesday next.

SAMUEL A. HARLOW has been appointed U. S. Marshal for the Southern District of New York, vice Gen Barlow, resigned.

DANIEL BUTTERFIELD, United States Assistant Treasurer at New York, has resigned. He is charged with being concerned in the Gold Ring combination, and President Grant had ordered an investigation.

THE explanation of their defeat in the elections given by the Democratic press, to wit: that they had "heavy loads" to carry in the persons of their candidates, is not satisfactory to the Chicago Post, which truly remarks that the heaviest load of unpopularity the Democratic party has to carry is the Democratic party itself.

THE next Pennsylvania Legislature will stand as follows: House, Republicans 60, Democrats 40—majority 20; Senate, (exclusive of the the Somerset, Fulton and Bedford district,) Republicans 18, Democrats 14—Majority 4. If Scull be admitted from the Somerset district, the Republican majority will be 5; if his opponent be admitted, it will be 3.

THE Legislature of Vermont ratified the Fifteenth Amendment on Friday last. The vote was taken by yeas and nays in each House, and was unanimous in the Senate. In the House there were twelve votes against it, but Colonel Dickey, of Bradford, the acknowledged leader of the Democracy, and their candidate for Speaker, voted yea, as did also Mr. Bishop, of Bolton, hitherto staunch and faithful in the ranks of the old line Democrats. The October elections are likely to demoralize the "white man's" party.

GOV. GEARY has appointed Hon. F. CARROLL BREWSTER, of Philadelphia, Attorney General to succeed Hon. Benjamin Harris Brewster, the present incumbent. The former is now one of the Judges of the Court of Common Please in Philadelphia, a lawyer of high professional and personal reputation, and will bring to the Attorney General's office the ripe experience obtained in years of successful practice at the Bar, and subsequently on the Bench. It is a capital appointment.

EDWARD M. PAXTON, Esq., a prominent member of the Philadelphia Bar, has been appointed Judge Brewster's successor on the Bench.

THE trial of Dougherty and Marra, two of the parties charged with the recent attempted assassination of Mr. Brooks, U. S. Revenue detective in Philadelphia, has resulted in their conviction. The case has excited unusual interest, as the general impression is that the Whisky Ring were at the bottom of the assassination, and the villains who attempted it were well paid. Although Dougherty and Marra are worthless desperadoes, they were defended by three of the ablest criminal lawyers at the Philadelphia bar, whose services usually command heavy fees. Besides, an important witness for the Commonwealth, a Police officer, was spirited away during the trial and could not be found when wanted. The defence undertook to prove an alibi by calling a number of noted 4th Ward characters—among them Alderman Billy McMullin, the famous Democratic politician. Although McMullin and his confreres swore positively to both the prisoners being in another part of the city, two miles distant, when the crime was perpetrated, the Jury didn't believe a word they said, and after 20 minutes absence returned a verdict of guilty.

THE statistics of internal revenue for the present year, taking a period of six months, from March 1st to Septem 1st, show that the gain from the tax on whisky over the same period in 1868 is equal to 95 per cent., and the gain from the tax on tobacco of the same period is equal to 66 per cent.

Treasurer Spinner's report shows that in comparing the receipts and expenditures of the Treasury for the six months ending September 30th, 1869, with the same period in the year 1868, the receipts have increased $19,233,953.01, and the expenditures decreased $36,801,014.59, a total of $56,034,967 in favor of the Government.

The Secretary of the Treasury has order the payment at once, and without rebate, of the interest due on the first of November on registered and coupon bonds. $25,486,000 in gold will be required to pay the November interest. Secretary Boutwell now has on hand about $84,000,000 in coin, and about $28,000,000, in coin bearing certificates, besides about $6,000,000, in currency. After the payment of the November interest, over $58,000,000 in coin will remain on hand, and no more will be required for the payment of interest until the first of January next.

THE LATE CONTEST.

Our victory of the twelfth would seem to indicate a Republican majority in Pennsylvania which nothing can overcome. Governor Geary, by three years of power, had arrayed against him many men whose schemes he had frustrated, and many others whose whims he had run counter to. Judge Williams was well known to hold views concerning the Registry law which must overthrow the theory of unlimited fraud upon the ballot-box should he ascend the Supreme Bench. The re-election of a Republican Legislature meant that our State re-endorsed the Fifteenth Amendment, and secures a fair apportionment of the State for the Legislature and for Congress for years to come.

Against these the Democracy arrayed itself with a firmness and enthusiasm which grew from their hatred of Geary, of negro suffrage, of a pure ballot, and of a fair and equitable apportionment. Against Geary was the whisky interest, against Williams the ballot-box stuffers and thieves. Against negro suffrage the slums of our population, and against the redistricting of the State fairly, every element combined which to some extent disagreed on every other point enumerated above.—That we have conquered, evidences a sturdy majority which no future combination from without can destroy.—Beaver Radical.

DEFEAT OF ANDREW JOHNSON.

Andrew Johnson's aspirations to a seat in the United States Senate, have suddenly came to a disastrous end. He and his friends felt confident of success. The balloting in the Tennessee Legislature on Thursday evening left him far in advance of all rivals, and lacking but six of an election. These six he felt assured of securing next day. But on Friday morning the Republicans and moderate Democrats effected a combination by which it was agreed to throw their votes for a new man—Henry Cooper. On the first ballot Cooper received 55 votes to 51 for Johnson. The announcement of the vote occasioned much surprise and intense excitement among Johnson's friends, and for a few days Nashville was a seething political cauldron. The country, however, will respond Amen! to the verdict of the Tennessee Legislature. We look upon the humiliation of the "Great Accident" as the more complete, because, when he left the Executive chair and the circle he had neither edified nor ornamented, he confidently appealed to the people of his own State for vindication. He went home to meet a fresh humiliation, on his own ground. Mr. Cooper, the successful aspirant to Senatorial honors, is comparatively a new man to the politics of Tennessee. He is represented as a man of large legal ability, and a moderate Republican; was a State Senator from Davidson county, and is a brother of Edmund Cooper, late private secretary to President Johnson, and formerly Representative in Congress from that State.

THERE is some difficulty in the Somerset, Bedford and Fulton Senatorial district. The candidates were Scull, (Republican,) and Findlay, (Democrat.) The actual vote in the district elects Findlay by 23 votes. But in Somerset county, no certificate was sent in by the officers of Alleghany township, which gave Findlay 40 majority. The Return Judge appeared with simply what purported to be a tally paper, but unattested by the election officers. This paper the Board declined to receive, and adjourned over to midnight, to enable the Democratic Return Judge to go home and get the proper certificate. At midnight the Board again met, but the Alleghany township Judge not presenting himself, that district was not counted, thus electing Scull by 17 majority. Next day five Return Judges from the Democratic districts in Somerset county met, counted the Alleghany township vote, and sent another District Return Judge to meet those of Bedford and Fulton. Thus Somerset had two Return Judges at the meeting of the District Judges. Bedford and Fulton, being Democratic, recognized the minority Judge from Somerset, and certified the election of Findlay. The election in the district being close, it will probably be contested. Of course, the Legislature will count the Alleghany township vote, but Mr. Scull may endeavor to show sufficient fraudulent votes in the district to oust Findlay.

IN the United States Supreme Court on Monday, Chief Justice Chase delivered the opinion of the Court upon the question of jurisdiction in the case of Yerger, deciding that the Court had jurisdiction in the case, and would hear arguments upon the petitions of Yerger for writs of habeas corpus and certiorari. It will be remembered that Yerger was tried and convicted of murder before a military commission in Mississippi, but in July last Colonel Phillips and J. M. Carlisle, Esq., his counsel, made application to Chief Justice Chase for a writ of habeas corpus. Upon agreement between the Attorney General and defendant's counsel the case was referred to the full bench of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General holding that the Chief Justice had no authority to issue the writ. The case was brought before the Court accordingly, and the question of jurisdiction argued, the Attorney General contending that the Court could not issue the writ, but by this decision the contrary is held, and the Court will therefore hear arguments on the petition of defendant. Associate Justice Miller dissented. The opinion delivered by Chief Justice Chase does not involve the merits of the Yerger case or constitutionality of the reconstruction acts, but merely the question of the authority of the Court to issue the writ of habeas corpus under its appellate jurisdiction. The case, on the next hearing, will present the question only as to which power in the State of Mississippi in its present condition of reconstruction—the military or civil—a person charged with crime is amenable.

"AT supper time, we are told, the Republican Inspector, Mr. Ried, took the ballot-box with him to his own house, some distance out of town, returning with it after supper! Does the Star think this was proper?"—Compiler.

The "STAR" does not "think this was proper." The law contemplates that the polls be kept open until 7 o'clock P. M., and election officers should make arrangements to take their meals one at a time, and under no circumstances should the ballot-box be removed from the place of holding elections. The sooner this custom, which prevails in some districts, of adjourning the election to enable the officers to get their meals the better.—That is bad enough; but it is worse to take the ballot-box to a hotel, and carelessly put it where ballot-box-smashers and stuffers can manipulate it at pleasure. Mr. Ried, at least, did not do that. He brought it back safe and sound.

THE New York Observer says that returns have been received from more than two-thirds of all the Presbyteries, ratifying the reunion of the Presbyterian Church by the required majority. The two general assemblies will meet in Pittsburg November 10 to count the votes and declare the result.

THE election for members of City Council, in Baltimore, on Wednesday, resulted in the choice of Democrats in all the Wards. The total majority is 5,646. The vote was small, but 18,500 out of 44,000 being polled.

IT is estimated that the public debt statement for the present month will show a reduction of eight millions. Only another link in the chain of Republican retrenchment.

THE people of Washington are still trembling lest the much talked of removal of the Capital should ever take place.—Some of the solid citizens have been interviewing Gen. Sherman in regard to the matter. Gen. Sherman says in his opinion the Capital will never be removed from Washington to the Mississippi, or any other valley. He thinks it would take 100 years to get a bill for removal through the House of Representatives, 100 years to get one through the Senate, and even after the passage of the bill by both Houses, 100 years would be spent in discussing the most eligible point in the Mississippi Valley to which the Capitol could be removed.

THE late authentic news as to the whereabouts of Dr. Livingstone, the indomitable explorer, says that he is not only alive and well, but in prosecuting his geographical researches has discovered that a source of the Nile, emptying into the great lake Victoria Tyanza, rises some ten degrees south of the Equator. This, if correct, makes the Nile the longest river in the world. A fair idea of the long line of the Nile may be formed from the fact that the distance between its last reported source and its delta along the Mediterranean is equal to the distance from Lima in Peru, to the city of New York, or from the City of Mexico away up to Mount St. Elias, the end of the backbone of this continent, in Alaska.

There was a profound study among the scholars; but finally one held up his hand as a signal that he was ready to answer. "Well, sir what would there be left? Speak out loud, so that all can hear," said the committeeman. "The plate!" shouted the little fellow. The committeeman turned red in the face, while the other members roared aloud. The boy was excused from answering any more questions.

STARTLING EXPERIENCE OF A MICHIGAN BALLOONIST.

The late balloon ascension from Bay City, on Tuesday afternoon, [illegible] one of the most dangerous exploits ever accomplished by an aeronaut. The balloon was filled before starting to its utmost tension, but owing to recent repairs, leaked badly, so that after one or two unsuccessful attempts Mr. Headley, who was to have accompanied Prof. La Mountain, was obliged to get out the car. Mr. Headley had the estables, instruments of observation and tissue paper used to ascertain the ascending and descending force of the balloon. So in stepping out of the car, or basket, and before he could transfer the articles named, those who had hold of the car let go, and the balloon shot up with a rapidity that carried it to an altitude of two miles within a few minutes. A perfect gale of wind was blowing at the time, and a moment after rain and sleet commenced falling. The balloon was still ascending when lost to sight in a cloud. Professor La Mountain, in relating his experience, says it became all at once intensely cold. The cloud he entered was one swimming mass of snowflakes, interspersed with rain, which formed a frost work on the car and netting of the balloon. The cloud with the snow-flakes forming and flying hither and thither had, as he expressed it, the appearance of a cloud of steam through which the sight could not penetrate. The earth was lost to view.—By tearing up his hankerchief, and throwing out shreds, he became conscious that he was passing upwards with wonderful rapidity, and along with the current of the air eastward towards the lake. Nothing was discernible but the thickening mist, and overhead his balloon, which, as the air became lighter, had expanded the thin cloth covering to its utmost strength.—Fearful that he might be carried into the lake, and without a pound of ballast to regulate his descent, he seized the valve rope with the intention of lowering himself gradually. To his surprise, the valve would not open. The rain and sleet accumulating on the top of the balloon had frozen the valve so tight as to resist the pressure from below. Putting his whole strength to the task, he gave a strong pull on the rope, pulling out the iron stables attaching the rope to the valve, the rope falling down into the car. The balloon was mounting up faster than ever. It had passed the storm cloud, which was a mile below, and the heavens above were as clear, and the sun shining as brightly as at mid-day in June. But the air was very cold and La Mountain was benumbed. But little time was lost in speculation. He had attained a height of over three miles. The balloon could not burst, for when the expansion became too great, the gas could escape from the flue or valve below, which was open; but he was fearful of being carried into or over the lake without having made preparations for such an event. Mounting the hoop overhead he reached for his knife, only to find he had left it on the ground. Clinging to the ropes with one hand, with the other and his teeth, after some exertion, he succeeded in tearing a rent into the balloon from the bottom ten or fifteen feet upwards. Then serving the opposite side the same way, he descended to the car to watch the progress. During this operation the ends of the fingers of both hands had become frozen. For a few moments the balloon kept ascending, then, as the gas escaped, it reached an equipoise, and a moment after commenced to gradually descend to the earth. Every instant increased its downward sweep. The professor said that he heard the cloth tearing, the rents enlarging, until, with a crash that sounded like a death-knell, the cloth gave way to the pressure, opening a seam on both sides from the bottom to the top. The gas escaped instantly, leaving not a thousand cubic feet, while the air rushed in, filling the vacuum, the balloon acting as a parachute. The professor gives it as his opinion that at the height of two miles there was not a foot of gas in the baloon. The cloth bellying out, formed a strong resistance to the atmosphere, and retarded the descent. He remembers distinctly passing through a cloud, and the sensation on regaining sight of the earth. He has an almost distinct recollection of approaching the earth's surface. A dull moaning like the surging of the waves greeted his ears, the flapping of the cloth became louder, and a moment afterward he became unconscious. On regaining his senses he found himself lying in a wood, and his balloon was some yards distant.—Several persons who had seen the balloon descend had come to the scene and were standing near; they afterwards assisted him. His arms and legs were badly bruised and himself stunned, but no bones were broken or internal injury sustained. The spot where he fell is seven miles from Bay City. He stopped over night at a farm house near by, and yesterday morning returned to Bay City. The adventure he passed through and his wonderful escape from death probably has no parallel on record. The time that he was in the air was less than thirty minutes, and the reason that he was not carried further was on account of passing through different currents of air.

WHAT a smart darkey can do is shown in the following incident from Richmond: A detective a night or so ago pursued a young contrabandist and made him drop a bag of manufactured tobacco he was taking to the dock to sell. As the bag contained eighty pounds of the weed, its capturer took it to a store, telling the proprietor that it was tobacco, which he wanted kept for him until next morning. He had only gotten cleverly out of sight, however, when the fleet-footed contrabandist went there and addressed the shopman as follows: "Didn't a red haired, crooked nose man leave a bag of tobacco here a little while ago?" The shopman replying in the affirmative, he continued: "Now, that's contraband tobacco, and the dectectives say they have been after you for a long time, and they have got you sure, now." The shopman, terrified by visions of a trial for a violation of the revenue laws of the United States, seized the bag and hurled it and its contents into the street. We need hardly add that the young scamp gathered it up and carried it straightway to his customer at the dock.

A MURDEROUS outrage was committed by a woman teacher in St. Louis the other day upon a little boy in her school. For a slight offence she caught him by the hair and dragged him across the room, pounded him with a ruler on the head, neck and back, and then threw him against a steam-pipe, fracturing his skull. After school the child went home and reported the treatment he had undergone. He complained of pain in the head, but it was not supposed to be anything serious, until some time in the night, when brain fever set in, and the child became raving crazy. In the insanity of fever the little one continually cried out, "Don't strike me! Oh, don't, don't strike me!" In this state the child has continued since Thursday last. There is said to be no hope of recovery. The wretched woman who committed this outrage is said to be only nineteen years old.

MR. GLADSTONE'S recent letter, declaring it the intention of the Government not to grant amnesty to the imprisoned Fenians, has caused considerable dissension among Liberals and Irishmen in England. The London Amnesty Association has entered its protest, and public sentiment was proposed to be shown by a public meeting held in London on Saturday. It was attended by fifty thousand people. Resolutions demanding the release of the prisoners were adopted and inflammatory speeches made. The flag of the United States was displayed and loudly cheered.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CUMBERLAND.—Frank Forney, aged 19 years, was thrown from a horse near Leesburg, on the night of the 16th inst., and so badly injured that he died in a few hours after.—The Methodist Church in Newville took fire in the garret on Sunday morning about 9 o'clock, and was considerably damaged, rendering a new roof, ceiling and other repairs necessary. The fire was caused by a defective pipe.—All the available colored troops at Carlisle have been ordered to Texas.—Dr. C. A. Howland, of Shippensburg, was thrown from his horse on Sunday night, and badly hurt, remaining unconscious for several hours. He is past recovery.

YORK.—The New School Presbyterian Synod of Pennsylvania was in session in York last week.—Burglars seem to thrive in York county. On the night of the 20th inst., the Shoemaker Shop of Rolandus H. Stough in Dover was robbed of $140 worth of boots and shoes, and a number of tools stolen from the Wagonmaker Shop of Dr. Wm. Lenhart. On Sunday night the Shoemaker Shop of Andrew Melhorn, near Weiglestown, was robbed of a lot of boots, shoes and leather.—H. A. Glessner, formerly Government Inspector at Wm. Foust's distillery; Emanuel Sheffer, a merchant at Glenrock; James M. Blasser and Samuel N. Eminger, of York, have been held for trial in the U. S. Circuit Court, on charges of corrupt practices in connection with the illicit distillation of whiskey.—Wild ducks are said to be plenty in the vicinity of Goldsboro. One gentlemen shot forty-two ducks in two days in that vicinity.—John Seeley, of York, died on Sunday from injuries received while unloading a car of lumber on the preceding Friday.

SANGUINARY CONFLICT.—The Memphis Avalanche of October 16 says:

An event that occurred at La Grange on last Saturday is startling in its character.—Two gentlemen, named respectively Witherspoon and King, cherished a grudge and an ill-feeling of some months' growth in their bosoms, and they met on the above named day in the above named little town, as we are informed. Mean whisky, of which there seems to be no lack anywhere, fanned the flames which glared in the rival breasts. They met at a bar-room, and with that sinister leer upon each lip that tells at once of scorn, hate and bloody passion, they asked each other to drink, both thinking that the other would refuse, and thus furnish a pretext for beginning the scene. Neither refused—both drank. They drank again, and for a little time things appeared even to the predetermined pair that perhaps there would be no fight this time. They were, however, mistaken in that, for words of bitterness and recrimination came thick and fast from their maudlin mouths, and the fight began. It is represented as terrific. Both men drew their pistols simultaneously and fired on the instant. Witherspoon escaped unhurt, while King was shot through the stomach. Pistols were cocked again, and King was shot through the arm, his own pistol missing fire. He however prepared his weapon and made a hasty attempt to fire it off, but it missed; he then flung it away and made a rush at Witherspoon. The latter stepped outside and fired again, but missed King and struck a young man named Branchford in the leg. King continued to advance upon Witherspoon, and having forced him into a store, he knocked him down, wrenched the pistol from his hand, and beat him over the face with it till his nose was broken in, the teeth all battered down his throat, and his eyes gouged out—in fact, his face was a perfect jelly, and he was considered dead. By this time King was so far gone from the effect of his wounds that he fell back and fainted on the floor, and Witherspoon lay like a corpse. The physicians say that both men must necessarily die from the fearful wounds they received.

AN individual calling himself Lord Hubert le Roy Ainsley, of London, appeared at Long Branch and Saratoga during the past summer, dressed gorgeously, drove fast horses and entertained his friends in princely style. At Long Branch he became engaged to Miss Lillie Martin, heiress of a wealthy family residing on Staten Island. For a few weeks after the close of the season the noble Lord was the cynosure of New York and Murry Hill, and Fifth avenue bowed down in homage at his aristocratic feet. His marrage with Miss Martin took place about a month ago, and was a most gorgeous nuptial celebration. But meanwhile some curious person had smelt a remarkably large sized rodent. The British peerage was examined and no record of the Ainsley family appeared. The anxious mother of Lady Ainsley, nee Miss Martin, sent a special messenger to London to get at the truth. He has returned, and the terrible secret is out. Lord Ainsley is only a successful fraud; he is really a London gambler and swindler and formerly valet to a wealthy French gentleman, whence came his polished manners. Nevertheless Miss Martin persisted in marrying him, and thus bringing disgrace upon her family. The rascal's true name is Radford, and he with his unfortunate wife is now in Philadelphia.

RESCUED BY DESPERADOES.—The notorious Jimmy Haggerty, whose case is now pending in the Philadelphia Court of Quarter Sessions, and has excited an interest second only to the Brooks' assassination trial, was on Saturday brought up to court to hear the decision upon the motion made by ex District Attorney Sheppard, to remand him to prison for the unfilled term of his previous sentence. As he issued from the court room to the yard below, where the van was waiting to conduct him again back to prison, a mob of his desperadoes closed around the tipstaves of the Court, and thrusting themselves between the officers and the prisoner, opened an avenue of escape for the latter through their ranks. He evidently was aware of the design to rescue him, and leaped like a deer through the path opened and ran through the open space between Independent Hall and its Western wing, fled across Chestnut street and into the American Hotel. By this time the tipstaves had penetrated the crowd and pursued him. They rushed to the American where again they were set upon by the ruffians, clubbed and beaten and prevented from any further pursuit. Haggerty then escaped. The officers are now on his track.

WHOLESALE MURDER.—On the 21st of September last a crime was committed near Paris, strongly resembling that of Anton Probst, in the Frist Ward of Philadelphia, less than four years ago. On that day the bodies of a woman named Madame Kinck and her five children, all horribly mutilated, were found by a peasant in a field belonging to a man named Langlois, near the railway station of Pantin, a few miles north of the French metropolis. A few days afterwards the body of Gustave, the oldest son of Madame Kinck, was found near the same place, and it is believed that Jean Kinck, the husband and father of these victims, has also been murdered; though, as his body has not been found, this is not proved. But supposing him to have been butchered like the rest, the number amounts to eight, and coincides with the number slain by Probst. A man named Jean Baptiste Troppmann has been arrested for these murders, and there is little doubt of his guilt. His object, like Probst's, was to obtain a moderate sum of money.

A Wisconsin paper alleges that the secret of the success of Chicago newspapers lies in the fact that every man and woman in the town takes every paper, for fear a divorce notice in which they are interested may be published and they not find it out.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Allow me, through the columns of the "STAR & SENTINEL," to say a few words in regard to the schools which are now, or soon will be, in operation in every district of our county. Occupying the official position which I do, I desire, from time to time, through the medium of the County Press, to contribute a mite towards the advancement of our system. No agencies are more important than these to which is committed the instruction of the youth of our land—those, who in a few years will be our men and women—the rulers and people of the nation.

We are commencing another active winter campaign. One hundred and sixty Teachers are employed in the schools of the county, for the purpose of instructing several thousand children. Could my voice be raised to a sufficient pitch to reach every school-building in the county, all its power would be employed in endeavoring to impress on each and every Teacher the responsibility of their positions.

We want active, energetic, progressive Teachers. We want men and women who are alive to the work in which they are engaged—not drones, to whom the school room is a prison, and who make it the same for those committed to their care. We want those who have been licensed as instructors of the young, to feel a deep interest in their work.

I know of no wish nearer my heart than the success of every Teacher in the county. Whether you, as Teachers, do succeed, will in a great measure depend upon yourselves. One who enters the school-room with the idea that his work ends with six hours of routine work in the branches which he is required to teach, has mistaken his profession. Do you wish your scholars to advance rapidly? You must show them that you are interested in all that pertains to their advancement. You must endeavor to make the school room a pleasant home, not a dungeon to be dreaded.

I speak plainly, because we have this term many young Teachers—many, who will succeed or fail in establishing themselves in the profession, according to the work done this winter. There are vexations connected with the Superintendency, but there are pleasures also. Let me sketch a school, in Straban, in which I spent a half day recently. I copy from my memorandum.

I found the room in good order, perfectly clean and decorated with taste. The room is furnished by the Board with a full set of Outline Maps, whilst the Teacher has supplied it with mottoes, which are beautifully edged with moss, a call-bell, &c. I noticed, amongst other attractions, a finely arranged bouquet on the Teacher's desk. I found the school orderly, attentive and studious. There are classes in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Written and Mental Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, U. S. History, Algebra, and Physical Geography. There are recitations in all these branches, each day. The recitations were well prepared, scholars polite, whilst both Teacher and scholars looked so pleasant, that I felt I was welcome. The classes were orderly in coming out—stove nicely blackened—no rod visible—everything, all that I could wish, to make my visit agreeable.

So I might proceed to point out numerous trifles, which rendered the room pleasant—numerous points, which rendered the lady in charge of the school a successful and competent Teacher. This lady is now engaged for the third year in the same building—a favorable contrast to the Teacher who is obliged each successive year to seek another sphere of labor.

Will not every Teacher resolve to go and do likewise? All cannot be thus publicly noticed, but all may deserve to be. I intend from, time to time, as our editors may indulge me, to let the people of the county know how their schools are progressing.—There is no item of news, in which they should be more deeply interested—there is none, which move vitally concerns all our people. I hope I will not be obliged to give a contrasted picture—one, in every respect the opposite of the above. But should I find the necessity to exist, I shall most certainly do so. I believe the people should know how their schools are succeeding, and that praise and censure should be given, as they are merited. The Press can be made a mighty instrument in the advancement of our schools to the position they should occupy.

I have, perhaps, spoken at too great a length of one school. I visited two other schools in Straban, and in both of them found much to praise and nothing to condemn. I think I understand part of the secret. When the public examination was held in Hunterstown, we had not less than sixty spectators, and a full Board of Directors present during the entire day. In a word, they are interested in their schools—have a six month's term—pay liberally, and endeavor to obtain competent Teachers. I will, in a future communication, return to a different branch of the same great subject.

County Superintendent.

A WATCH, pair of Blankets, Quilt or Shawl for One Dollar appears almost impossible, but such may be had and hundreds of other useful articles by patroning PARKER & CO'S, "ONE DOLLAR SALE."

Their system of doing business has been examined by the authorities and a DECISION rendered from the Internal Revenue department at Washington dated Nov. 4, 1868, declaring their business perfectly fair and legitimate and entirely different from the numerous gift enterprises. Of course all do not get watches, blankets, &c., for One Dollar, but in every large Club, one of these articles are sold for One Dollar as an extra inducement, and some member of the club has the chance of obtaining it. A New feature introduced by the enterprising firm, is to pay their agents in either cash or merchandise and to pre-pay the express charges. THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallible cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it. root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of dyspepsia or indigestion can resist their penetrating power.

DR. WISHART'S
PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:—

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

WOOD FOR SALE,
300 CORDS OAK,
200 HICKORY,
AT SANDOE'S MILL.

☞Price $3 and $3 per cord on the ground.

Gettysburg, Aug. 20, 1869.—tf GEO. ARNOLD.

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Oct. 29, 1869.

WOOD WANTED.

A few Cords of good dry Wood will be taken at this office, in payment of accounts, if delivered immediately.

SALE.—George W. McClellan will to-day, at 10 o'clock, if the weather be favorable, sell a large variety of Household Furniture, at his hotel.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS.—On our first page will be found a list of Township officers recently elected, for which we are indebted to the courtesy of the Compiler.

☞The Love Feast at Pfoutz's Church, on Sunday week, was largely attended. Five persons were admitted to the church by immersion on Saturday previous.

ACCEPTED.—We learn that Rev. J. M. Clemens, of Littlestown, has accepted a call from the Reformed church at St. Clair, Schuylkill county, Pa.

☞Now is the time to begin advertising for Fall and Winter trade. Advertising will pay the year round, but now, active, lively advertising pays best.

SOLD.—Mrs. Minnigh has sold to John McCleary the two-story brick house and half lot of ground, southeast corner of Washington and West Middle street, for $2,100.

☞The premium of $20 taken by Dr. T. T. Tate's horse "Cashier," for the best thorough-bred stallion, noticed by us last week, was awarded by the Cumberland county Agricultural Society.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put 25 cents worth of Neutral Sulphite of Lime into one barrel of cider; after two weeks rack it off and rinse out the barrel; then return the cider and bung it, and it will keep sweet, for use, all winter.

PURCHASED.—The Frederick Republican says that Sheriff Hann, of this place, has purchased the "Clairveux" property, near Mt. St. Mary's College, with the intention of opening a boarding house next spring.

SCHOOL MATERS.—In to-day's paper will be found an article on School matters by MR. WERT, the County Superintendent. We shall be glad to hear from Mr. Wert frequently; and will also welcome communications on practical topics from Teachers. Let them, however, be condensed and of general interest.

TO SCHOOL DIRECTORS.—We are requested to call the attention of the officers of the various School Boards in the county to the fact that the law requires them to report to the County Superintendent the names of the Teachers employed, with amount of salaries paid, as soon as elected. A number of Districts have failed to report, and they are required to do so immediately.

STATUE.—The excavation for the foundation of the Reynolds bronze statue, in the National Cemetery here, has been made. The statue, we are told, is to be raised to its place next summer. It will be placed near the entrance. We should have preferred to see it located on the ground where Gen. Reynolds fell, back of the Seminary. But the 1st Corps have selected the National Cemetery, and their decision is final.

BAD ROADS.—We hear a good deal of complaint about some of the roads leading from town, said to be in bad condition. Winter is coming on, and they should receive prompt attention. In passing over the Bendersville road recently, we found numerous "chuck" holes, making travelling with light buggies dangerous. We don't know who the Supervisors are, or who is at fault. The township authorities will do well to look into the matter. In case of accident by reason of continued neglect, somebody would have damages and costs to pay. Now is the time to repair our county roads. Let the supervisors go to work and see that repairs, where needed, are made. Every ditch should be cleaned out and new ones cut where required. All holes should be filled up and the roads graded and repaired that when the autumn rains come, the water will drain off and not stand in the highway to the great annoyance of travelers.

SHERIFF'S SALES.—Sheriff Hann, on the 16th inst., sold the real estate of Jacob F. Beck and wife, in New Oxford, as follows: A house and lot, to A. S. Himes, at $695; a building lot, to John F. Warner, at $302 75; and ten perches of ground, to Peter Diehl, at $30.

On the 2d instant the Sheriff sold the property of Philip Egerton, on the Emmittsburg road, to Hon. David Ziegler, at $3,000. This is the property which the Gettysburg Asylum Association bought, through Mr. Egerton, as the basis on which to prosecute their huge swindle. They paid $1,000 hand money, and the thing subsequently exploded, the Legislature repealing the act of incorporation. Judge Ziegler had nothing to do with the swindle. He sold the property in good faith, before the villainy of Egerton & Co., developed itself. Of course he pockets the $1,000 hand money, simply buying back the property to save the unpaid gales.

ELOPEMENTS.—Our Hanover neighbors have been having a little sensation in the matrimonial line. The Spectator says: "Considerable gossip was created in our town last week by the announcement that two runaway couples, from distant places, had been traced to our town, and compelled to return again to the homes they had forsaken and made desolate. The first of these interesting couples consisted of an old gray-haired man of 60, (married,) and a young miss of 16, or thereabouts, from Westminster Md., who, becoming infatuated with each other, and being consumed by the "fires of love," linked their fortunes together and fled across the line to enjoy the bliss of love. Their dream of happiness was of short duration, however, as on Tuesday, (election day,) their friends arrived in pursuit, and they were discovered at one of our hotels and compelled to return to their homes. The second and last couple hailed from Reading, Pa., and we believe, as in the former case, the man was elderly and married; the lady single, youthful, pretty and interesting. They were also discovered, and compelled to return home."

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.—The next session of the Adams County Teachers' Institute will meet in the Court-house, Gettysburg, on Monday December 6, to continue during the week. Mr. WERT, County Superintendent, is arranging an attractive programme, which cannot fail to be profitable to Directors and Teachers. He has already secured the services of Prof. KIDD the distinguished Elocutionist, Hon. HENRY HOUCK Deputy State Superintendent, Prof. BROOKS of the Millersville Normal School, Prof. ERMANTROUT of the Kutztown Normal School, and other prominent educators. These Institutes are important agencies in the development of the Common School system. The law makes provision for them. Live Boards of Directors will give them a cordial support; and not only grant their Teachers the privilige of attending without diminution of pay, as provided by law, but will REQUIRE their Teachers to attend. Their is much practical information to be obtained at these Conventions, when judiciously conducted, which will enable both Directors and Teachers better to discharge their respective duties; and it argues either culpable indifference to the development of our educational interests, or gross illiberality, when Directors fail to give their Teachers a full opportunity to enjoy the advantages growing out of an exchange of views and hearing the suggestions of distinguished practical educators.

JACK FROST—Is here, and NORRIS is determined to keep people warm and comfortable, by selling clothing so cheap that every body can purchase Over Coats as low as $4.00 and good warm Under Coats at $3.50, also Under Shirts and Drawers at any price a man wants them, Knit Jackets, Government Blouses and Over Coats, cheap as dirt, and Genuine Buck Gloves the best in the country, and every thing that a man wants to keep himself comfortable. Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Rubber Overs, &c., &c. Dont fail to call at Norris' Corner—Arnold's old Stand, if you want bargains. tf

BIERBOWER'S SEGARS have become noted for their high flavor, and every body who knows anything about good Tobacco has got in the habit of going direct to his establishment in the northeast corner of the diamond—fully assured that they can get just what they want, the very best Segars, made of prime tobacco, highly-flavored, and what is better still sold at prices that can't be beat in or out of the city. Strangers can't mistake the place. "Punch" always stands at the door, good humoredly inviting the passer-by to enter and enjoy the good things to be found there—Segars, Smoking and Chewing Tobacco, of the best brand, Merchaums, Pipes, &c.

ATTENTION FARMERS.—Try the celebrated Patent Elastic Rubber lined Collars, Saddles and Pads. Warranted to prevent horses from galling and to heal up under work horses already galled, if properly fitted; and sore necks and backs are kept clean with cold water and Castile Soap, or no pay. For sale by J. W. Cress, manufacturer's Agent, Gettysburg, Pa. Sept. 10-tf

WINTER COMING.—Winter is coming, and COBEAN & CUNINGHAM have made arrangements to meet the wants of the public by their large assortment of all kinds of Ready-made Clothing, for Fall and Winter wear, for Men and Boys—also, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c., which they are selling very low. tf

HARPER'S PUBLICATIONS.—Harper's Magazine, Weekly and Bazaar are three of the best publications, for general family use, issued from the press. They have attained an enormous circulation, attesting their popularity and merits. In to-day's advertising column will be found the publishers' announcement for 1869.

☞We call attention to the advertisement of The Churchman in another column. It is a finely printed, ably conducted paper, and is one of the very best religious newspapers of the country.

SHOTES FOR SALE.—Mr. Hez. Latshaw has on his farm, one mile south of New Salem, eighty head of fine Shotes, weighing from 30 to 90 lbs. each, which he will sell at reasonable prices. Now is the time to buy Shotes for next year, and as Mr. Latshaw always deals in the best of stock, the present opportunity should not be neglected. 1t

☞There is no danger of a stock such as Wanamaker & Brown's giving out very soon, and if there was, they are continually manufacturing and adding new and fresh garments. But at the same time, there is great advantage in making early selections of Fall and Winter Clothing. We advise our readers to be in time in making their purchases, and to get a "first pick" out of this wonderful stock at Oak Hall, of which we hear so much.

FOR CIRCULARS of the Iron City College, giving full particulars of the course of study, method of instruction, qualifications for entering, time of commencing, necessary expenses, &c., address the Principals, Smith & Cowley, Pittsburg, Pa. 1t

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of the mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease that he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by most druggists everywhere. 1t

BE BEAUTIFUL.—If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

CAUTION.—Extended success in any department of business justly awakens competition, and owing to defective mental and moral structure, often begets envy. Now these are to be expected and may be met with energy and determination; but not unfrequently the bounds of legitimate rivalries are overstepped, and base, unscrupulous men stoop to use the patronage of others to further their nefarious purposes. With the assistance of science, and by means of industry and honesty, in providing a potent remedy, Dr. Stoever's Old Standard Tonic Herb Bitters have attained unparalleled celebrity, having been before the public for the last thirty years.

Wherever they have entered the sick or complaining household, their effects have even exceeded expectation, and so far surpassed all we have ever claimed for them by circular, card, or otherwise, that the public confidence in the medical qualities of the Bitters is unbounded. We do not fear the competition of the empirical throng who attempt to palm off remedies upon the people, which are not scientifically compounded, and are destitute of available qualities. Their empiricism will be discovered in the end, and the inefficiency of their preparations found out. We would rather be envied for merited success than despised for failure, however ungenerous it may be for man either to envy or despise. Against another and a worse class of individuals, we are forced to take action. We allude to those who take advantage of our popularity, and attempt to gain public favor and confidence by counterfeiting the Old Standard Bitters, barely imitating the label, or making other approaches to its preparation calculated to deceive, and as a matter of course, in so far as they succeed, to bring our excellent Tonic into disrepute. The public are hereby warned against all such imitations. In order to further protect ourselves, and save the afflicted from imposition, we have concluded to change our Label so as ever hereafter to sustain our indentity, and keep the reputation of the Old Standard intact. We incur great expense by so doing, but the end warrants the means. The new label along with the caption, directions and neat ornamentation, will present an excellent steel portrait of C. H. Kryder, the senior member of the firm. This will be the badge of its genuineness, as well as a guarantee of the quality of the Bitters. The label will be duly copyrighted, and thus placed beyond the reach of counterfeiters. By no fault of ours shall the public confidence ever be abused or the reputation of the "Old Standard" be allowed to suffer. None genuine unless signed.

ANTIQUITIES OF ROME.—The Chevalier Pietro Rosa has made some further interesting discoveries on the property of the Palatine Hill at Rome, now the property of the Emperor Napoleon. They consist of a swimming school, with a series of chambers, constructed with reticular walls, coated with stucco and adorned with fine encaustic paintings, representing various mythological subjects, surrounded by some very delicate drawings, executed with great skill and in very brilliant colors. There are demons, talamons, hippogrifs, columns, candelabra, birds, vases, garlands and festoons. On one of the walls is the giant Polyphemus (with two eyes) surprising Galatea and Acis, and on another Io, chained to a rock and guarded by Argus (also with two eyes) and delivered by Mercury. Another interesting discovery has been made in digging the foundations of a house at the hospice of the Trinita del Pellegrini. An old building has been found with the remains of the fresco paintings and a fine pavement in mosaic, representing in the middle Mercury holding the caduceus and a nymph carrying a cornucopia. At the corners are the four seasons with their attributes.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A most shocking accident occured at Newton Corner, Massachusetts, on Monday, causing the death of a young man named George Gove, and causing the utmost excitement and horror through the whole village. Gove and another man were at work painting the exterior of the steeple on the Elliot Church, both men standing on a platform supported by a rope at either end. From some cause the rope sustaining the end of the platform on which Gove was standing suddenly slipped off and the unfortunate man was precipitated to the earth below, a distance of eighty-five feet. His companion on the platform was near enough to the other rope, which did not break, to sieze it and sustain himself until safely rescued. The body of Gove was shockingly mangled, and was removed to the residence of Mr. Evans, one of his employers. The deceased was a single man, but leaves a widowed mother in Maine, who was dependent upon him for support.

GENERAL BUTTERFIELD, the United States Sub-Treasurer at New York, has replied to the attempts of the gold gamblers to connect him with their conspiracy by writing a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, asking an official investigation, which has been ordered to be made. Undoubtedly an honest and thorough examination of the affair will be made by Secretary Boutwell, and justice done.

DRY earth has recently been introduced as a deodorizer, and the result of the process is reported to be perfectly effective. Among other illustrations, it is stated that at the meat preserving establishment near Melbourne, Australia, where thirty thousand sheep are frequently slaughtered in one day, there is not the slightest smell, in consequence of the use of dry earth as a deodorizing agent.

TEACHERS'

COUNTY INSTITUTE.

THE third session of the County Institute, under the Act of Assembly, approved April 9th, 1867, will be held in the Court-house at Gettysburg, commencing Monday, Dec. 6th, at 1½ o'clock, P. M., and will continue in session during the week.

The exercises of the week will consist of Lectures, Instruction in the various branches taught in the schools, Class-drills, Essays, Discussions of important educational topics, contests in Orthography and other branches, and whatever will give interest and variety to the session of the Institute. It is the wish of the Superintendent that the Institute may be of practical benefit to every teacher.

Prof. Robert Kidd of Indiana will be present during the entire week, giving two lessons each day in vocal Culture, Elocution and Reading. He will also give two evening entertainments. Hon. Henry Houck, Deputy State Superintendent, will be present on Wednesday and Thursday. Prof. Edward Brooks, Principal of the State Normal School at Millersville, will give instruction in Arithmetic and the science of teaching. Prof. A. S. Manson will give instruction in penmanship. There will also be a teacher in geography. Rev. Edsall Ferrier of Penna. College, Rev. John S. Ermentrout of the Kutztown Normal School, and other distinguished educators and lecturers, will assist.

The exercises will be interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. It is hoped every teacher in the county will be present on Monday, to participate in the organization. None, who have the heart in the work in which they are engaged—none, who are desirous of advancing, will remain away without a full and sufficient excuse.

We want better teachers; we want each year to advance the grade of the profession; we want to sift out those who are incompetent and stationary. Then let every one, who wishes to be considered a live teacher, come up to this annual reunion, assured that they will go to their work the better fitted for it. But we want more than simple attendance. We want the earnest, active co-operation and participation of all to make the Institute, a grand success. Let all remember, that, as they labor to advance the profession to a higher and nobler standard, they labor for themselves.

The contests in Orthography will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday, the first premium being Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. Thursday will be Director's day. A portion of the day will be devoted to the explanation of points in the School-law, upon which directors may desire information. It is hoped there will be a full attendance of live directors.

Directors are respectfully urged to grant teachers the time. Those paying full fare over the Railroad will be returned free: male teachers will be accommodated at reduced rates by the leading hotels; female teachers, as usual, will be entertained in private families. For full particulars of exercises, see circular, which will be mailed to teachers and directors.

J. HOWARD WERT,
County Superintendent.

"UNQUESTIONABLY THE BEST SUSTAINED WORK OF THE KIND IN THE WORLD."

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Harper's Magazine, apart from the illustrations, contains from fifty to one hundred per cent. more matter than any similar periodical issued in the English language.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 120,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American people; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading-matter, appropriately illustrated with good woodcuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

It is one of the wonders of journalism—the editorial management of Harper's. * * * All the periodicals which the Harpers publish are almost ideally well edited.—The Nation, N. Y.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.—1870.

"THE BEST, CHEAPEST, AND MOST SUCCESSFUL FAMILY PAPER IN THE UNION."

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

In November will be commenced "Man and Wife," a new serial story, splendidly illustrated, by WILKIE COLLINS (Author of "The Woman in White," "No Name," "Armadale," and "The Moonstone"). New Subscribers will be supplied with HARPER'S WEEKLY from the commencement of the Story to the end of 1870 for Four Dollars.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The MODEL NEWSPAPER of our country. Complete in all the departments of an American Family Paper, HARPER'S WEEKLY has earned for itself a right to its title, "A JOURNAL OF CIVILIZATION."—New York Evening Post.

HARPER'S WEEKLY may be unreservedly declared the best newspaper in America.—N. Y. Independent.

The articles upon public questions which appear in HARPER'S WEEKLY from week to week form a remarkable series of brief political essays. They are distinguished by clear and pointed statement, by good common-sense, by independence and breadth of view. They are the expression of mature conviction, high principle, and strong feeling, and take their place among the best newspaper writing of the time.—North American Review, Boston, Mass.

"A REPOSITORY OF FASHION, PLEASURE, AND INSTRUCTION."

HARPER'S BAZAR.

A supplement containing numerous full-sized patterns of useful articles accompanies the paper every fortnight, and occasionally an elegant Colored Fashion Plate.

Harper's Bazar contains 16 folio pages of the size of Harper's Weekly, printed on superfine calendered paper, and is published weekly.

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Harper's Bazar contains besides pictures, patterns, etc., a variety of matter of especial use and interest to the family; articles of health, dress, and housekeeping in all its branches; its editorial matter is specially adapted to the circle it is intended to interest and instruct; and it has, besides, good stories and literary matter of merit. It is not surprising that the journal, with such features, has achieved in a short time an immense success; for something of its kind was desired in thousands of families, and its publishers have filled the demand. The young lady who buys a single number of Harper's Bazar is made a subscriber for life.—New York Evening Post.

The Bazar is excellent. Like all the periodicals which the Harpers publish, it is almost ideally well edited, and the class of readers for whom it is intended—the mothers and daughters in average families—can not but profit by its good sense and good taste, which, we have no doubt, are to-day making very many homes happier than they may have been before the women began taking lessons in personal and household and social management from this good-natured mentor.—The Nation.

It has the merit of being sensible, of conveying instruction, of giving excellent patterns in every department, and of being well stocked with good reading-matter.—Watchman and Reflector.

THE REMEDY FOR CURING

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS,
BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,
AND CROUP.

AS AN EXPECTORANT

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

It is composed of the active principles of roots and plants, which are chemically extracted, so as to retain all their medical qualities.

MINISTERS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS

Who are so often afflicted with throat diseases, will find a sure remedy in this Balsam. Lozenges and wafers sometimes give relief, but this Balsam, taken a few times, will ensure a permanent cure.

Will all those afflicted with Coughs or Consumption give this Balsam a fair trial? They will be pleased with the result, and confess that the Sure Remedy is Found at Last.

IT IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PAIN KILLER.

PAIN is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand, to be used on emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agony of pain, or the depressing influences of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in PERRY DAVIS' "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the polar regions, or beneath the intolerable and burning suns of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. And by it suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally, in cases of Cough, Cold, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy; in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sores, and Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, &c., and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day. ☞Beware of Counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and take no other. Sold by Druggists and Grocers.

Gettysburg, Friday, Oct. 29, 1869.

[For the Star and Sentinel.

AGRICULTURE IN SCHOOLS.

Most of us remember how dull and destitute of interest were our school studies. We learned geography, perhaps, with satisfaction, because we were obtaining what we considered truths which would benefit us in after time. We "cyphered" to the "Rule of Three"—scarcely beyond—because we conceived the idea that that alone would qualify us to transact the common business of life, without once reflecting how far from practical were the problems given us to solve. If we studied Grammar, it was not for the love of it, but because we honestly believed that it made us "speak and write the English language correctly." And how often have we been forced to read in the old English reader, or some other equally stupid text book, which we could not understand, and which would render us but little benefit, even under a full apprehension of its meaning. The truth is one half of the men and women of Pennsylvania took little or no pleasure in the studies of their school days. There was an unvaried routine, day after day. To go over a certain amount satisfied a majority. To understand and apply what was assigned, was most distant from their thoughts.

Though schools at the present day have greatly improved, in many respects, yet there still exists this hereditary fault.—There is no interest manifested because, too often, there is no tangible meaning to the lessons assigned, or they are beyond the comprehension of the learner. The pupil cannot see their applicability. Teachers perceive the fault,—they know it is not easy to engage the mind of the pupil, as we know from experience. And a good instructor understands the reason.

This being so, what shall be the remedy? Our plan would be to change the character of our school books and of the instruction given.

The objector at once meets with the fact that books have been simplified and improved to such a degree that there is no room for further improvements.

We understand it. We are not ignorant of the vast improvement which has been made within comparatively a few years.—But they have not all been improved in the right way. There is still a deficiency.—There is too much technicality about them—too many rules, too much lumber, and too little practicability in them—precisely like that of civil engineering. We would have them so written as to apply more directly to the common affairs of life—to commerce, to trade, the mechanic arts, architecture, domestic economy, &c. We know that this is not possible in every branch, but in a great measure it is not only possible, but quite easy. Every science has some practical, useful application, and when that science is studied, why should not its application constitute a part of the study?

Let us apply our idea to one branch of useful knowledge,—that of agriculture.—We need a more thorough knowledge of the principles of agriculture, and a practical application of the sciences on which it is based. As a people we are exceedingly ignorant of agricultural facts. We do not understand why a certain piece of ground will produce one kind of vegetation and afford no support to another. We cannot tell why one description of manure will double a growth of corn, while another will produce no visible effect. And there are a thousand just such mysteries in nature which are beyond our power to explain.—To be sure many of them are known to some men—but not to the mass. Now what we want is, to place the reasons of these things before the mind of the scholar in such a manner as will induce him to consider them.. Let him see the reason for any change that is produced in nature, and he will soon learn to remember that fact, and to search out others to increase his knowledge.

We would have our reading books made up of that class of articles which, while they present a great variety of style, would contain practical information. There has now been so much written and spoken on the subject of agriculture that a choice selection might be made. The strongest minds, the most gifted intellects, have been exercised in this department; and the most eloquent addresses have been delivered on this subject. There is no death of material for a splendid selection of agricultural reading adapted to the scholars in our common schools and academies. There is a work by Dr. Blake, well adapted to the wants of schools in this respect—a book, too, full of interest and instruction.

Our mathematical studies might be so arranged as to afford practical instruction, while their efficiency in disciplining the mind would not be diminished in the least. One of the best Arithmetics within our knowledge, has a few chapters on this plan, which are given under the heads of the "Farm," the "Garden," the "Household," the "Roads," &c. It is too difficult a work for common district scholars, but it serves as a model for one requiring less effort and qualification to master. It is a work by Horace Mann and Pliny E. Chase.

So in Chemistry, Philosophy and other studies—there is no difficulty in making them practical.

We need not say more on this subject at present. We only desire to call attention to it, that it may receive a candid consideration by the public. We hope farmers will think of it, and discuss it. Let it be a topic for debate in district lyceums, in Farmers' clubs, and in agricultural societies whenever they meet for discussion.

J. S. G.

THERE are many racy repartees and witty sayings attributed to the Irish, while again some are vulgar and bungling enough. Among the former, we class the subjoined:

An Irish woman who had kept a little grocery store was brought to her death bed, and was on the point of breathing her last, when she call her husband to her bedside.

"Jemmie," she faintly said, "there's Missus Mulony—she owes me six shillings."

"Och!" exclaimed her husband, "Biddy, darling, ye're sinsible to the last!"

"Yes, dear, and there's Mrs. McGraw, I owe her one dollar."

"Och! be jabers, and ye're are as foolish as ever!"

IN Freeport, Armstrong county, on Sunday last, Mrs. Straub, who is subject to fits of insanity, slipped behind her son, twenty-two years old, while he was eating breakfast, and struck him on the head with a pick, splitting open his skull. He died on Tuesday morning. The mother is in jail.

Apple and pear trees well scraped and then washed with this preparation will not only be freed from some of the chief insects preying upon foliage and fruit, but will sensibly feel its invigorating effects.—Germantown Telegraph.

A CALL for a Woman's Suffrage Convention has been issued, signed by eighty-five advocates of the "Coming Event." It is proposed to hold the Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, on November 24 and 25 prox.

MR. Margrave, a citizen of Jefferson county, Tenn., is in his ninety seventh year, and has not tasted animal food for fifty years, and, as he believes, has not eaten as much as one pound in his life. He is temperate in his habits, using no spirits of any kind, and uses tobacco moderately. He is a bachelor.

THE Williamsport horse fair commenced on the 19th inst., and continued four days. Premiums to the amount of $21,600 were be given.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper.—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a hal feet inf grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen.,	Henry Culp,
Ephraim Lady,	Henry King,
George Lady,	Elisha Penrose,
Jonathan Wisler,	David Stewart
James Mickley,	W. Ross White,
Daniel Settle,	J. J. Kerr,
John Bender,	Andrew Weikert,
John Eckert,	Wm. Bigham,
Wm. Funt,	John Guinn,
Cornelius Lott,	John N. Hoffman,
Wm. Gulden,	John N. Boyer,
Wm. Ross.

Also, WIRE-TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & SONS, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn door as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the public are referred for further information:

Wm. J. Peters, Flora Dale, Adams co., Penna.
Wm Kohler, near New Oxford, " "
John D. Pfoutz, near Gettysburg " "
Henry Harbold, York Springs, " "
Daniel Peters, Bendersville, " "
John Waltman, McSherrystown " "
Michael Fiscel, Mountjoy twp., " "
John Small, McSherrystown, " "
Wm. F. Brandon, York Springs, " "

Repair Castings for the above machine will be kept by the Agent, and also by Ephraim Fiscel, near Gettysburg.

FORTY THOUSAND

CASES OF GOODS

were shipped from our house in One Year, to families, clubs, and merchants, in every part of the country, from Maine to California, amounting in value to over

ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

Our facilities for transacting this immense business are better than ever before. We have agents in all the principal cities to purchase goods from the Manufacturers, Importers, and others, for CASH, and often at an immense sacrifice from the original cost of production.

Our stock consists, in part, of the following goods:—

SHAWLS, BLANKETS, QUILTS, COTTONS, GINGHAMS, DRESS GOODS, TABLE LINEN, TOWELS, HOSIERY, GLOVES, SKIRTS, CORSETS, &c., &c.

SILVER-PLATED WARE, SPOONS, PLATED ON NICKEL SILVER, DESERT FORKS, FIVE-BOTTLE PLATED CASTORS, BRITANNIA WARE, GLASS WARE, TABLE and POCKET CUTLERY, in great variety.

ELEGANT FRENCH AND GERMAN FANCY GOODS, BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, the newest and choicest styles in Morocco and Velvet Bindings.

MOROCCO TRAVELLING BAGS, HANDKERCHIEF AND GLOVE BOXES, &c.

GOLD AND PLATED JEWELRY, OF THE NEWEST STYLES.

We have also made arrangements with some of the leading Publishing Houses, that will enable us to sell the standard and latest works of popular authors at about one-half the regular price:—such as BYRON, MOORE, BURNS, MILTON, and TENNYSON'S WORKS, in full Gilt and Cloth Bindings,—and hundreds of others.

ONE DOLLAR FOR EACH ARTICLE.

We do not offer a single article of merchandise, that can be sold by regular dealers at our price. We do not ask you to buy goods from us unless we can sell them cheaper than you can obtain them in any other way,—while the greater part of our goods are sold at about

One-Half the Regular Rates.

We want good reliable agents in every part of the Country. By employing your spare time to form clubs and sending us orders, you can obtain the most liberal commissions, either in CASH or MERCHANDISE, and all goods sent by us will be as represented, and we guarantee satisfaction to every one dealing with our house.

Agents should collect ten cents from each customer and forward to us in advance, for Descriptive Checks of the goods we sell.

The holders of the Checks have the privilege of either purchasing the article thereon described, or of exchanging for any article mentioned on our Catalogue, numbering over 350 different articles,—not one of which can be purchased in the usual way for the same money.

The advantages of first sending for Checks are these:—We are constantly buying small lots of very valuable goods, which are not on our catalogues, and for which we issue checks till all are sold; besides, in every large club we will put checks for WATCHES, QUILTS, BLANKETS, DRESS PATTERNS, or some other article of value, giving some members of the club an article for about one quarter of its value.

"In every order amounting to over $50, accompanied by the cash, the Agent may retain $2 00, and in every order of over $100, $3.00 may be retained to PAY THE EXPRESS CHARGES.

This offer is more especially to assist Agents in the Western and Southern States, but is open to all customers.

COMMISSIONS:

Agents will be paid ten per cent, in Cash or Merchandise, when they FILL UP THEIR ENTIRE CLUB, for which below we give a partial List of Commissions;

FOR AN ORDER OF $30, from a club of Thirty, we will pay the Agent, as commission, 28 yds. Brown or Bleached Sheeting, Good Dress Pattern, Wool Square Shawl, French Casimer Pants and Vest Pattern, Fine Large White Counterpane, etc., or $3.00 in cash.

FOR AN ORDER OF $50, from a Club of Fifty, we will pay the Agent, as Commission, 46 yds. Sheeting, One pair heavy Wool Blankets, Poplin Dress pattern, Handsome Wool Square Shawl, Silver-Case Watch, etc., etc., or $5.00 in cash.

FOR AN ORDER OF $100, from a Club of One Hundred, we will pay the Agent, as commission, 100 yds. good yard-wide Sheeting, Coin Silver Hunting Case Watch, Rich Long Wool Shawl, Suit of all Wool French Cassimer, etc., etc., or $10 in cash.

We do not employ any Travelling Agents, and customers should not pay money to persons purporting to be our agents, unless personally acquainted.

☞ SEND MONEY ALWAYS BY REGISTERED LETTERS.

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE.

Beauty and Elasticity of Stitch.
Perfection and Simplicity of Machinery.
Using both threads directly from the spools.
No fastening of seams by hand and no waste of thread.
Wide range of application without change of adjustment.
The seam retains its beauty and firmness after washing and ironing,
Besides doing all kinds of work done by other Sewing Machines, these Machines execute the most beautiful and permanent Embroidery and ornamental work.

☞ The Highest Premiums at all the fairs and exhibitions of the United States and Europe, have been awarded the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, and the work done by them, wherever exhibited in competition.

☞ The very highest prize, THE CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR, was conferred on the representative of the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, at the Exposition Universelle, Paris, 1867, thus attesting their great superiority over all other Sewing Machines.

☞ For sale by D. W. ROBISON, Gettysburg.

NOTICE.

THE undersigned having had 17 years' experience as a practical Operator on Sewing Machines would recommend the Grover & Baker Family Machine as the cheapest and best machine for family use. The simplicity of construction and elasticity of stitch made by these machines are two very important points in their favor. 250,000 of these machines are to-day bearing witness to the truth of our assertions and the demand is steadily increasing.

We have also Shuttle Machines on hand for Tailors and Coach-trimmers use. Call and see us.

PIANO FORTES,

BALTIMORE, MD.

These instruments have been before the Public for nearly Thirty Years, and upon their excellence alone attained an unpurchased pre-eminence which pronounces them unequaled. Their combines great power, sweetness and fine singing quality, as well as great purity of Intonation, and evenness throughout the entire scale. Their is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In they are unexcelled. Using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enables us to keep continually an immense stock of lumber, &c., on hand.

TONE

TOUCH

☞ Our SQUARE PIANOS have our New Improved Overstrung Scale and the AGRAFFE TREBLE.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in

GRAND PIANOS AND SQUARE GRANDS,
Patented August 14, 1866,

Which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained.

Every Piano fully Warranted for Five Years.

☞ P. BENTZ, York, Pa., Sole Agent for the above celebrated instruments, is by special arrangement enabled to furnish them at the Very lowest factory prices.

A Word to the Wise!

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Renner's Chemical Fertilizer!

THE importance of a quick, active and durable Fertilizer, adapted to the soil of our county, is acknowledged by all Farmers. Having satisfied myself, after long study and careful experiment, that F. C. RENNER'S

Chemical Fertilizer

surpasses all others in adaptedness to all kinds of soil, I have purchased the right for Adams county, and am prepared to fill orders for it promptly and on reasonable terms. It is no humbug, but

HAS BEEN SUCCESSFULLY TRIED

by a number of our Farmers, and is admitted by all who have it to be the best in the market, and the cheapest. I am prepared to furnish this Fertilizer in any quantity, and will deliver

In any town or village in the County, when ordered in not less quantity than a TON. I manufacture it for sale at $50 per ton without bags, or $55 in bags. This fertilizer is composed of the best fertilizing chemicals that can be had. I use no oil of vitriol; it does not contain any ammonia, therefore I do not use it. Neither do I use lime nor ashes.

THE OBJECT OF THE CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

is to introduce a fertilizer that will last for a series of crops—not only for one. It contains sufficient animal matter to mature the grain and make it ripen early, while the ammonia forces the growth. I expect to manufacture a large supply this winter for the spring crops, and therefore invite farmers and the public generally to give it a trial on all kinds of Grains and Vegetables.

CAUTION.—I hereby give notice that Farm Rights hereafter sold unless signed by me, are infringements on my Right, and will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law, from which there is no appeal.

☞ All orders will be promptly attended to by addressing
